

A Glad Thanksgiving To All

MAIL YOUR XMAS PACKAGES EARLY

Postoffice Requests Holiday Parcels To Be Mailed As Soon As Possible

There is more urgent necessity this year than ever, of mailing holiday parcels early, and unless this is done a great number of parcels will not reach their destination until after the holidays. The main reason for this is that since the origin of the parcel post system a great many more parcels are sent by mail and during the holiday season the mails will be so congested that it will be impossible to get them all to their destination on time unless the public takes advantage of mailing them early.

All parcels must be mailed at the postoffice, should be securely wrapped and tied, with complete address of addressee, with street and number if any, and the name and address of the sender in the upper left hand corner of the parcel. Unless this order is strictly complied with the parcel will be unmailable. Such words as "Do not open till Christmas" are permissible on the outside of the parcel, but no communication is allowed inside.

Any United States postage, except due stamps, is good for mailing all classes of mail.

The limit of weight of parcel post matter mailed to the 1st and 2nd zones, approximately a radius of 150 miles, is 20 pounds, and to all other zones only 11 pounds are allowed.

The rate of postage on parcels mailed to the 1st and 2nd zones is 5 cents for the first pound and 1 cent for each succeeding pound. The rate for other than the 1st and 2d zones is according to distance. Parcels weighing four ounces or less 1 cent per ounce, regardless of distance.

Any fourth-class parcel may be insured by paying an additional fee of 5 or 10 cents—those of a value of $25.00 or less 5 cents, and those valued at more than $25.00 and less than $50.00 10 cents.

In former years it was customary for the public to mail their parcels up to the last day before Christmas, but this year they should mail them at least a week earlier if delivery before Christmas is desired.

WOODMEN TO MEET

Will Fight Out Rate Problem In Fond du Lac This Week

The Modern Woodman of America Assembly Federation will thresh out the rates and the organization throughout the state is holding special meetings for the purpose of lining up with either the standpaters or the insurgents, in Fond du Lac, November 28 and 29.

Both of the Fond du Lac camps are insurgent and have instructed insurgent delegates for the convention here next week. One camp favors the return to old rates, while the others favor a reasonable increase in rates, but is opposed to having the rates established by the present national administration.

The convention there next week will be primarily for the purpose of electing delegates who will go before the national convention next June and fight to rid the order of unnecessary persons on the payroll.

KILLS TIMBER WOLF

Ed. Buckman shot and killed a large timber wolf on Chas. Gustafson's farm near Lake Thompson, Sunday. Mr. Buckman will receive twenty dollars bounty from the county and state.

UNSEASONABLE WEATHER

Rhinelanders Would Make A Good Winter Resort

The weather in this part of the country is very unseasonable being more like that of spring than fall. Loggers are daily hoping for a cold spell and snow. Boom lake which two weeks ago was frozen sufficiently to permit skating is again open.

Merchants, especially clothing and dry goods men, assert the mild atmosphere has caused a lull in fall trade and there is no demand for winter goods such as is always noticeable at this time of year.

Physicians claim the weather is injurious to the health of the community, there being many cases of sickness in the city.

In the saving of fuel bills the weather has been a great factor and wood piles and coal bins have thus far escaped the usual heavy onslaught.

TO CHECK SCHEME OF MR. GRIFFITH

Anti-Forestry Men Adopt Reso- lutions At Meetings In This City

A lively meeting of the representatives of the counties affected by the state forestry policy was held at the Oneida county court house Thursday evening, November 20, and another meeting was held Friday afternoon, November 21. All present were enthusiastic against the Griffith policy and made plans to raise a large sum of money to oppose this policy and will also arrange to secure public speakers to enlighten the public on the true facts of Mr. Griffith's scheme to convert these northern counties into one vast forest reserve.

RESOLUTIONS

Resolutions Adopted by the Inter-County Committee on State Forestry at Rhineland, Nov. 20, 1913.

RESOLVED, That steps be taken to secure hearings by the legislative committee at such times and places in the several counties as may be requested by the counties involved

POTATO CONVENTION COMES TO SUCCESSFUL CLOSE

Langlade County Secures First Prize On Potatoes—Oneida Is Second—Marinette, Merrill and Barron After Next Convention

The second annual convention and exhibit of the Wisconsin Potato Growers' Association came to a successful close at the Armory in this city Friday evening. The program was completed late Friday afternoon after which an inspection of the exhibits was made by the public. In the evening a concert by the Military band was a pleasing feature.

It is estimated that nearly two hundred growers and others interested in potato culture were in attendance at the convention. Large delegations were also present from Oneida county towns. Many prominent potato experts were here.

Marinette, Merrill and Barron are out for the 1914 convention.

Following is published the list of those whose potatoes received prizes at the exhibit:

To stand second among fifteen or twenty great potato counties making exhibits is no small prize and Oneida county is one of the newest counties at that. Four years ago very few if any potatoes were shipped from Oneida county. Thus far this year over one hundred cars of potatoes have been shipped by Rhinelander buyers. That is coming somewhat cleared that will grow just as good potatoes as won the prizes in the Oneida exhibit. ONEIDA COUNTY
IS ON THE POTATO MAP!

PASSENGERS PATRONIZE INDIANS

The Northwestern passenger depot in this city took on a real western aspect Tuesday morning when Indian women with baskets of bead work, moccasins and pouches gathered on the platform to dispose of their wares at train time. The square did a brisk business, many people on the train making purchases through car windows. One man remarked that the scene reminded him of those frequently seen at railway stations while traveling through the west.

SLIGHT SUNDAY BLAZE

Fire in the woodshed in the rear of Sam Anderson's residence on north Stevens street, called out hose company No. 1 Sunday afternoon. The damage was slight.

Do your Christmas shopping early.

ONEIDA "SPUDS" AT PFISTER HOTEL

Big Milwaukee Hotel Uses Po- tatoes From The Jen- sen Farm

The Pfister Hotel Company of Milwaukee, the leading hotel in this state, have known for years that Oneida county potatoes suited them; every year Mr. Jensen of the town of Cassian used to select for them two or three carloads of extra fine stock, of uniform size and ship to them at an advanced price. And by the way, Mr. Jensen took 2500 bushels off from 14 acres of land, two years ago and sold them for $2100, cash, getting $150 per acre out of that piece of soil next his store.

Now it is a self evident truth that each locality of this country is adapted to the growth of some item, better than it is to anything else. It has been plainly demonstrated here by practical tests that this is a good country for clover and potatoes and that the two work together. Therefore it is a wise thing for all to turn in and develop these crops as much as possible.

A potato dealer from North Crandon told of shipping five cars of potatoes to Waupaca, for local consumption, which is like shipping iron to Pittsburgh or lumber to Duluth. It shows however that the new soils are producing better than the old ones.

Potatoes, clover and dairy cattle are the things for Oneida county to work with.

C. P. CROSBY.

CELEBRATE 30th WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Olson, old and respected residents of the north side, passed the thirtieth anniversary of their wedding Saturday. That evening they were surprised by about forty of their friends and several pleasant hours were spent in a social manner. Mr. and Mrs. Olson were presented with a set of silver knives and forks and a carving set. Saturday was also Mrs. Olson's birthday anniversary.

PERKINS TO MEET FRAZIER

Billy Perkins of this city and Bill Frazier of Oshkosh will go to it for ten rounds in Oshkosh Thanksgiving night. These middles are about evenly matched, both are clever performers in the ring and a lively scrap is anticipated. This will be the lumberjack's second appearance before an Oshkosh audience, he having won a decision over Steamboat Bill Scott there two weeks ago. William Daniels of this city expects to attend the bout.

PAPER MAKERS' BALL

Local 66, International Brotherhood of Paper Makers, will give its annual ball at Gilligan's hall Christmas night, December 25. The Military orchestra has been engaged to furnish music. The paper makers vouch that this will be the most enjoyable dance ever given by them. The advance sale of tickets is encouraging for a large attendance.

EVERYBODY INTERESTED

Everybody in the town and county is trying diligently to win the 14k. Sold Gold Omega Bracelet Watch offered free by J. J. Seegerstrom, the jeweler. It will be awarded for the longest list of correctly spelled words from the letters in the words "Omega Watch". Cut out the ad. in today's paper and start your spelling bee.

SANTA CLAUS LETTERS

Will Be Turned Over To Local Charita- ble Institutions

The Rhineland postoffice has been authorized by the postal department at Washington to deliver all letters on which the postage has been fully prepaid arriving at the office during the month of December which are addressed plainly and unmistakably to "Santa Claus" without any other terms or expressions identifying the person for whom such letters are intended, to responsible charitable institutions or reputable individuals in this city who may desire to use them exclusively for philanthropic purposes.

Letters of the character described addressed for local delivery, on which the postage is wholly unpaid or paid less than one full rate, also may be delivered to such institutions or individuals upon the payment of the postage with which they are chargeable. In the event that these letters are requested by more than one institution or individual, the postmaster is requested to distribute them in such proportion as he may deem proper. Where no voluntary request is presented the postmaster is instructed to forward them without delay to the dead letter office at Washington.

O'BRIEN IS HOME FROM LONG WALK

Young Rhineland Pedestrian Hikes To Toledo, Ohio, And Return

Thomas O'Brien, the well known young pedestrian who left this city early last fall on a long walk with New York as his destination, arrived in Rhineland Friday after covering 1235 miles, the distance from this city to Toledo, Ohio, and return. When he started from here on his hike O'Brien intended to go to New York but upon his arrival in Toledo he made the distance between element that he decided it unwise to continue the jaunt east. Despite the fact that O'Brien is partly paralyzed the weather became so in Rhineland and the Ohio city and return in fourteen weeks. He feels that the walk has been helpful in improving his physical condition.

O'Brien says that in many of the cities which he visited on his trip, he received most cordial treatment from the mayors, police chiefs and other officials. Meals were furnished him free, small donations of money were made him and he was regarded rather in the light of a hero in other cities the young man was not accorded such friendly welcome. One of these cities was Antioch where the police confiscated his gun and ordered him out of town. Through the assistance of Rhineland friends he will endeavor to again get possession of the weapon.

O'Brien bears letters from mayors of at least a score of important cities along his route testifying as to the time of his arrival and departure. He proposes to spend the winter in Rhineland and in the spring will begin anew his walk to New York.

PRAISE FOR LUTHER

In a mention of the potato convention in this city last week Saturday's Merrill Herald says:

"E. L. Luther, county agricultural representative of Oneida county deserves a great deal of credit for the success of the meeting and has been one of the prime factors in bringing this county to the fore in the matter of potato production."

Grand Rapids—

At a recent session of the Wood county board it was voted to establish an agricultural and domestic economy school in connection with the county Normal school in this city. Steps will be taken at once to carry out the requirements as set forth in the resolution passed by the board.

Eagle River—

While hunting six miles west of this city John Naul discovered a shotgun, both barrels loaded with buckshot and set near a deer run way. The weapon was brought to this city. Local officials are investigating in an effort to locate and bring to justice the person who is guilty of setting the gun.

Stevens Point—

Instead of the ceremony that was to unite in marriage Miss Martha Demares of Deway and Leo Jach of Sharon, funeral services over the body of Conrad Demares, brother of the bride-to-be, were held at St. Mary's church. Preparations for the wedding had been practically completed, even to the securing of the provisions for the 300 guests who were expected to attend, when news of the death of Conrad Demares was received from Park Falls, where he had been killed in a hunting accident. Many of those at the funeral came to the church, expecting to celebrate the wedding ceremony, and knowing nothing of the young man's death. There were no witnesses to the tragedy, but it is thought that the bullet was discharged from Mr. Demares' own gun. He leaves a bride of five months.

Antigo—

The state railroad commission has fixed the value of the Antigo water works plant at $128,500, and the city is allowed six months in which to make the payment, with six percent interest. The value of the plant is given as of January 1, 1913, and the city must pay for all necessary improvements meantime. This is the second plant owned by W. G. Macy to be bought by a municipality in the last two months, the first one being the Oshkosh plant.

Officers raided the saloon known as the "Bath House" and arrested Louis Bertotti, the proprietor, and two inmates. Bertotti is charged with running a house of ill fame.

In case either of the defendants are found guilty as charged the Linley law will probably be invoked against this saloon which allows the seizure and confiscation of all furniture and fixtures in the building and the building vacated for all purposes for one year.

Phillips—

Providing that contracts for 100 acres of land can be secured for the purpose of raising cucumbers the Wisconsin Pickle company of Green Bay will establish a large pickling station in this city. Cucumbers can be raised on new land to advantage and the average yield in places where these concerns have been established is from 200 to 700 bushels to the acre. Once established here the company will buy cabbages, cauliflower and other vegetables for pickling.

Washburn—

Women residents of the county are the holders of 112 deer hunting licenses, as is shown by the records in the office of County Clerk Nels M. Oscar. In the little town of Cable, which has a population of about 500, 26 women hold licenses. Iron River comes second with 25 and in nearly every other town and city in the county a few women have the coupons which entitle them to kill at least one deer.

Iron River—

The personal injury case of Thomas W. Jay, chairman of the town of Brule, against the Northern Pacific Railway company, was dismissed by Judge Hildford on motion of the defendant's counsel after the evidence had all been submitted. Jay was struck by a freight train near Pearson, a station seven miles west of Iron River. He had been checking out some forest products which he had been loading at a side track and stepped around the car and onto the track just as the freight train came along unseen and unheard by him.

Florence—

While hunting near this city Joseph LeGrand came across a bear sleeping in his winter quarters. The bear had dug a hole in the ground and had wedged himself in with ferns and leaves so he would be warm in cold weather. Considerable difficulty was experienced in removing the bear from the hole for he was a large sized animal.

DEAN DAVENPORT'S OPINION ABOUT THE CHICAGO STOCK SHOW

E. Davenport, dean of agriculture University of Illinois, in speaking of the International Live Stock Exposition, which will this year be held Nov. 23 to Dec. 6, expressed himself as follows:

"With every passing year the importance of the International Exposition in the development of American live stock interests is becoming more and more evident. The Exposition differs from the ordinary fair in the prominence given to actual market conditions. Located as it is beside the greatest live stock market in the world, and coming as it does at a season when the best of stock is passing through the yards, the Exposition has the advantage of the Stock Yards' transactions. The Union Stock Yards, therefore, with their immense and thoroughly typical business, becomes a kind of annex to the Exposition itself and serves to temper in many ways the rather artificial atmosphere that is so unlikely to be built up around the grounds where the best animals of all breeds are congregated. The conditions are therefore ideal for constituting the Exposition and its surroundings a kind of clearing house for the live stock interests, as it is also a mirror for their very faithful presentation. There is less of the artificial and more of the real, less of the phenomenal and more of the actual in breeding than would be possible at any other point, certainly in America. These natural advantages combined with the liberal policy of the management make the Exposition an ideal place for the man who would keep posted in live stock progress. Here is where ideals will be largely set and new departures in breeding largely determined.

"The Exposition should commend itself to young men whether they are to be breeders of pure-bred animals, or producers of market stock. In either case they need to become personally familiar with what is actually being done in our great breeding yards and with what the market really wants."

30,000 VOICES

And Many Are The Voices of Rhinelander People

Thirty thousand voices—What a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women, who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder ills. They say it to friends. They tell it in the home papers. Rhinelander people are in this chorus.

Here's a Rhinelander case: S. D. Nelson, grocer, 204 E. King St., Rhinelander, Wis., says: "I had pains in the small of my back which were caused by weak kidneys. The pains inconvenienced me in every way. It was hard for me to stoop or lift and I couldn't bring a strain on my back. Doan's Kidney Pills rid me of these ailments. In all I must have taken several boxes and I was fair in giving Doan's Kidney Pills a thorough trial. I am pleased to say that the cure they made has been permanent. The recommendation I gave Doan's Kidney Pills when I first used them, still holds good."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Nelson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

EDUCATIONAL MEETING

A school board convention will be held at the Training School, Thursday, December 11th. A most interesting program will be given. This year both school board members and teachers are expected to be present. The reason why the teachers are requested to attend this convention is to stir up a mutual interest so that both board members and teachers may appreciate the other's troubles to some extent and that the two factors may join in mutual benefit to the child. Friday and Saturday, December 12th and 13th, a teachers' institute will be held at the Training school. All teachers are expected to be present at this institute and the school board members are cordially invited to attend this gathering, if possible. A man from the office of the State Superintendent will be present to assist in the convention. Prof. Cheever, of Milwaukee Normal, Prin. Dresden, Agricultural Representative Luther and others will take part in the program of the institute. Plans are being made for one of the most successful educational meetings, ever held in this county. A full program will be published later.

IMITATION!!!

More Worthy Medicines are imitated than one would suppose—And the one most imitated today is

REARDON'S WHITE PINE COUGH BALSAM

Twenty-six years ago we perfected a cough remedy and called it Reardon's White Pine Cough Balsam. So great was its success that many druggists are selling imitations of it.

The public can protect itself against these imitations by looking for the name J. J. REARDON on the label. All others are imitations and not genuine.

THE BANK OF PERSONAL SERVICE

AFTER COUGHING TWO YEARS

Waycross, Ga., Woman Found Relief in Vinol.

Did you ever cough for a week? Then just think how distressing it must be to have a cough hang on for two years.

Mrs. D. A. McGee, Waycross, Ga., says: "I had a very heavy cold which settled into a chronic cough which kept me awake nights for fully two years, and felt tired all the time. The effect of taking your cod liver and iron remedy, Vinol, is that my cough is gone. I can now get a good night's rest and I feel much stronger in every way. I am 74 years old."

It is the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cod's livers aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron which makes Vinol so efficient for chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—at the same time building up the weakened, run-down system.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

P. S.—If you have any skin trouble try Sazo Salve. We guarantee it. John J. Reardon, Druggist, Rhinelander, Wis.

DON'T KNOW THEY

HAVE APPENDICITIS

Many Rhinelander people who have chronic appendicitis, which is not very painful have doctored for years for gas on the stomach, sour stomach or constipation. J. J. Reardon, druggist, states if these people will try simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as compounded in Adler's, the German appendicitis remedy, they will be surprised at the QUICK benefit. A SINGLE DOSE relieves these troubles INSTANTLY.

Attorney R. J. Haggarty of Park Falls, who spent part of his boyhood in this city, has applied for a charter to establish a branch of the First National Bank in Park Falls. The institution will be capitalized for $25,000. Mr. Haggarty is not only an able lawyer but a keen young business man and his Rhinelander friends wish him success in his latest venture.

DECLARE WAR ON COLDS

A crusade of education which aims "that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation" has been begun by prominent New York physicians. Here is a list of the "don'ts" which the doctors say will prevent the annual visitation of the cold:

"Don't sit in a draughty car."
"Don't sleep in hot rooms."
"Don't avoid the fresh air."
"Don't stuff yourself at meal time."

Overeating reduces your resistance. To which we would add—when you take a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. To accomplish that you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most excellent. Sold by All Dealers.

FLASHES FROM THE HEADLIGHT

Bits of News Pertaining To The Soo and Northwestern Railroads

The valuation of the 47 railroads of Wisconsin has been increased $21,775,000 over last year's assessment, according to the preliminary valuation announced by the state tax commission.

The preliminary assessment is fixed at $348,023,000.

The Northwestern is valued at $118,000,000; the St. Paul at $103,000,000; Illinois Central at $1,100,000; Burlington at $19,500,000; Soo at $5,500,000, and Omaha road at $32,000,000.

The commission announced that the roads will have until Dec. 15 to present evidence, if the preliminary assessment is deemed too high.

John W. Doyle, who began his railroad career as a news agent on the Chicago and Northwestern road running between Fond du Lac and Milwaukee, has been appointed superintendent of the Madison division of the Northwestern with headquarters at Madison. He was until the recent promotion superintendent of the Minnesota division at Winona.

W. D. Cantillon, has resigned as Gen. Man. of the Northwestern road because of ill health. Mr. Cantillon will be succeeded by S. G. Strickland, Chicago, according to an announcement. Mr. Cantillon now lives in Chicago.

Mr. Cantillon was born in Jamesville, August 5, 1861. He went to work for the Northwestern road in 1875 as a brakeman. Soon after he became a conductor and served in this position until 1891. He was trainmaster from 1891 to 1893; assistant superintendent in Milwaukee, 1893-1897; superintendent of the Minnesota and Dakota division of Winona, Minn., 1897-1901; assistant superintendent at Chicago, 1891-1892; general superintendent, 1892-1906; assistant general manager, 1906-1910, and general manager since Nov. 1, 1910.

AND THE TRAIN PULLED OUT

George Shoultice's friends are having a good laugh at his expense. At 1:30 o'clock Saturday morning George went to the Soo passenger depot to wait for the 2:10 train east; he was going to see his lady friend in Gladstone. Being unusually fatigued he immediately fell into the throes of Morpheus and when he awakened from his dream the train was pulling into Pembine. Fearing that his best girl might quit him if he failed to show up on the limited he wired her he would be in Gladstone on the first freight train. George was last seen going east in a cattle car.

Tonight, if you feel dull and stupid or bilious and constipated, take a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets and you will feel all right tomorrow. For sale by All Dealers.

BROTHERS ARE REUNITED

F. Jury, a one time resident of this city who makes Appleton his home, was in Rhinelander this week accompanied by his brother, William Jury of Alexander Bay, N. Y. This is the first time the brothers have been together in thirty-three years and it is needless to state that they are having a happy reunion.

William Jury left Wisconsin for New York state thirty-three years ago and has since resided there. Bear Creek was his former home and he was in Rhinelander long before the coming of the railroad.

AFTER SICKNESS OR OPERATION

It is a pathetic mistake to accept drugs or alcoholic mixtures when nature craves nourishment to repair the wasted body and restore the vigor of health.

For forty years the best physicians have relied on the wholesome predigested nourishment in Scott's Emulsion which is totally free from alcohol or opiates.

Scott's Emulsion sharpens the appetite—renews blood—nourishes nerves—strengthens bones and restores the courage of health to make life bright.

Scott's Emulsion sets in action the very forces that promote health; it is pure, rich strength.

The unusually bright and clear pictures being shown at the Majestic theater are not due to a new machine, as many patrons have supposed, but to the skill of the operator, William Pufahl. Mr. Pufahl is recognized as one of the best motion picture operators in the state and he has received many compliments on his work along this line by those who are versed in the business.

ACQUIT JUDGE LINDSEY

A few weeks ago a committee was appointed through the efforts of the Woman's Protective league of Denver to investigate the conduct of Ben R. Lindsey as judge. Behind this investigating committee is the Beast. Such characters as Rodney Curtis of the Tramway led the Woman's Protective League on in this unjust attack but nothing was found against the judge. After six weeks of incessant searching for proofs; after sessions giving over to quizzing of witness after witness when pinned down, they refused to endorse their own previous testimony. After drawing in all the baited lines laid to snare the judge, the committee originally unfavorable to the judge acquitted him of every charge and the atmosphere of Denver has been cleared.

The above is a fair illustration of what we are constantly seeing in this and every other city. Without thorough investigation all sorts of charges are in the atmosphere and when thoroughly investigated fall flat.

AN IMPORTANT CROP

Wisconsin is making rapid strides toward training the country schools to the problems that lie close to the soil," was asserted by Prof. W. A. McKeever of Manhattan, Kansas, in an address before the Wisconsin State Teachers' association at its recent session. "If this movement is carried to its ultimate conclusion then in generations hence a new world of men and women will dwell in your commonwealth," said Professor McKeever. Continuing the speaker said:

"What the rural communities of Wisconsin need is a larger and more comprehensive plan for the development of its precious boys and girls into splendid, well-poised men and women. I know from long personal experience what it is to be a farmer. I stand in my small way as a champion of corn breeding and live stock raising. But these things must not be taught and sought as ends in themselves. It is sometimes the case that a mean and soul-impoorish man will own a very large farm, and will possess a heavy holding of bank stock. But before you point to such as your best citizen, I want to examine the family. It may be that he has been all the while trafficking indirectly in the life blood of his sons and daughters, and perhaps all so of his precious life companion. Again it is often found that the owner of a small farm is the really good citizen, and wealthy man, and that chiefly because he continued through out all his efforts to think of the products of the farm as so much raw material to be made over into the growing characters of his boys and girls, and to bring blessings and happiness to himself and his life mate."

PAYS TO STUDY FIGURES

Two men came west together to settle on farms and grow up with the country. One settled in Wisconsin, but the other went further west and bought some prairie wheat land at a price much higher per acre than the other had to pay in Wisconsin. This year the prairie man had only a fairly good crop, about 15 bushels per acre, but that was more than the most of his neighbors had, as the season was not one of the best for wheat. He sold his wheat in his local market for cents a bushel, or at the rate of $10.75 per acre.

The Wisconsin man raised some cabbages, 16 tons to the acre, and sold them for $15 a ton, or at a rate of $240 per acre. He raised some potatoes, and harvested 120 bushels to the acre—not an extra large crop. Some of his neighbors got bigger yields, but at 55 cents a bushel, which is less than the present price, each acre yielded $104.50. Also he raised other foodstuffs which brought him similar generous returns.

Meantime the wheat raiser had to take a large portion of his crop to pay for the costly machinery needed in raising wheat, but the Wisconsin man had not needed much machinery. Also the wheat raiser cannot raise general farm produce profitably because he is too far away from the consuming markets, and railroad freight charges and commissions would wipe out the profit. But the Wisconsin man can raise fine wheat and get 10 cents a bushel for it on account of being so much nearer the ultimate grain markets. Further the Wisconsin man is an ideal dairy region, especially adapted to diversified farming, while the prairie man must stick to his wheat until he wears his land out.

In Wisconsin, especially northern Wisconsin, clover grows wild like a native weed, and alfalfa does exceedingly well, and both clover and alfalfa sell for twice as much per ton as they sell for in the far west, because here the proximity of big markets makes it possible to utilize to much greater advantage the value in those commodities.

Too many homeseekers do not reckon in figures. They fail to correctly solve the problems which they have to deal with. Hence they "go further and fare worse." But at present the natural resources of this region and the favorable market conditions are attracting more attention than ever before. Next year an unprecedented rush will be on to improve these abounding opportunities.—Superior Telegram.

WILSON'S TRUST POLICY

Specific definition of just what constitutes a trust.

Prohibiting merging of corporations which would give the new concern a monopoly in its field.

Prohibiting interlocking directorates and stock ownership in rival concerns by corporations.

Regulating stock issues so that water can not be injected into corporation stock so that new combinations can be milked by the promoters who underwrite new issues.

Making guilt personal, so that directors of corporations and not the corporations shall be punishable for violation of the anti-trust laws and providing for prison sentences and not money fines.

Prohibiting discrimination in rates, prices, etc., in order to crush out of existence a rival corporation.

Prohibiting the issuance of fictitious stock and prohibiting the buying by corporations of rival factories merely to close them up to keep their product out of the market.

Possibly explicitly exempting mutual organizations of farmers and labor unions from the provisions of the law.

To every single one of his visitors the president has insisted that the fact that a corporation has a capital stock of billion dollars is no reason why anyone should fear it. To one visitor he said:

"I am not objecting to the size of the enterprises. Nothing is big enough to scare me. I am not objecting to the extent of business and, least of all, I am not objecting to people getting rich from conducting business with prudence. What I am going to object to is that the government should give them exceptional advantages which enables them to succeed and does not put them upon the same footing as other people."

HOW SHALL IT BE DONE?

Troublesome boys. We always have them. I do not call them bad boys. I name them troublesome boys because they so trouble us, but generally not because they intend to be bad boys. Often they can easily be changed to skilful and helpful boys.

1. We must remember that they are immature boys, not mature beings—no men.

2. Omit most of the scolding. Get in the habit of looking for and praising good deeds, rather than seeking and chiding failures.

Reasoning—logic—has little to do in reclaiming a boy and infusing in him better notions and actions.

What shall we do, then? Give a chance for something better and the poorer way will drop out.

A policeman takes the ring leader and makes of him an assistant.

A school teacher gets a trouble some fellow to help in something that interest the boy.

A Sunday school teacher commends a boy for some good quality and gets him to assist in something that he is interested in.

The keynote of success with the "bad" boys (often so called) is to show them that you are their friend and will help them, help them in that which concerns them and not you.

The Angels sang: "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

Boys are good judges of these things. They soon find out a teacher's disposition, whether he is real or a sham, whether he is seeking to help the boy or only making him believe.

My third principle is that the teacher should be quick to observe good qualities in the boy and praise him for them, and should be slow to chide him for errors, mistakes, bad conduct. This is sometimes necessary, but praise does more than blame.

The old adage is "Molasses catches more flies than vinegar." I don't like that simile. Here is another one that I object to: "The hook concealed by the bait, catches more fish than the naked barb." Now we are not to catch boys, in any such way as that. We are to lend them a helping hand. Hence the first duty of the Sunday school teacher also is to secure the good will and confidence of his pupil. This he can do best by so winning him as to show him conclusively that he is his friend, and is seeking to help him. The same thing is true of the day school teacher, or a teacher anywhere.

Sometimes we must chide, but the praise should come oftener and more readily.

That famous Denver Judge of juveniles, Ben Lindsey, has already taught the country and, to some extent, the world, a lesson. He has begun the instilling into the minds of youthful criminals a love for a better life, and the good work is going on.

THE STATE GRANGE MEET

Everyone in Rhinelander took a lively interest in the Potato Growers' Convention.

On Dec. 9, 10 and 11 the Wisconsin State Grange will also meet at Rhinelander. This is of just as much interest to the agricultural advancement of Oneida county as the Potato Growers' convention. There is an organization of farmers interested in growing one crop: the Grange is an organization of farmers interested in growing ALL crops.

The State Grange is expected to draw just as many visitors as the Potato Growers and it is just as important that these visitors should carry away a good impression of Oneida county and its products.

The State Grange would like to make an exhibit of ALL kinds of agricultural products but it will be useless to have any brought in unless the city of Rhinelander will furnish a suitable place to exhibit them.

The Armory can be rented for the three days for $50.00 and if this is done the Granges of Oneida county will bring in exhibits (also other counties of course). If this is not done the State Grange will try to crowd into the Council Rooms (which have been offered gratis) and simply hold their business sessions.

The local Grange would like to furnish souvenir badges, string some banners, give the visitors a chance to visit our local factories, etc. but the city must co-operate.

Antigo furnished everything needed for the State Grange last year without any solicitation and they are sending a big delegation of Grangers and business men to Rhinelander when State Grange meets to carry off the 1914 convention back to Antigo.

We must confess that Antigo knows how to boost for Antigo and Langlade county.

ACCEPTS CALL TO ELGIN CHURCH

Father J. M. Johnson Will Leave City For New Charge On December 15

Rev. J. M. Johnson, vicar of St. Augustine's church and archdeacon of Rhinelander, has accepted a call from the vestry of the Church of the Redeemer in Elgin, Ill., to become the rector. This is a parish of two hundred fifty-nine communicants with a brick church, guild hall and rectory. Plans are now in progress for a beautiful $20,000 church and a $1000 addition to the parish house.

Father Johnson will depart for his new field on December 15. He will preach his farewell sermon at St. Augustine's, Sunday, December 14. Mrs. Johnson and children will leave for Elgin next Monday.

During the eight years in which Father Johnson has been vicar of St. Augustine's he has endeared himself to the members of his congregation and the citizens of Rhinelander, regardless of denomination. He has been a tireless worker and under his guidance the church here has grown and prospered. Every where expressions of regret are heard over the announcement that he is to leave Rhinelander. Father and Mrs. Johnson and children take with them the best wishes of the people of this city.

The rectorship of the Church of the Redeemer in Elgin is one of the most important posts in the Diocese of Chicago and the salary is a substantial one.

OLD RESIDENT GONE

Mrs. Mary McDonald Dies in Ashland Sunday Morning

Mrs. Mary McDonald, one of the early residents of Rhinelander, passed away at 10 o'clock Sunday morning in St. Joseph's hospital, Ashland. For the last two years Mrs. McDonald had been in poor health. Her last illness covered a period of two months.

Mrs. McDonald was sixty-nine years of age and a native of County Clare, Ireland. The McDonald family moved to Rhinelander from Stevens Point twenty-five years ago and this city has been their home ever since. Mrs. McDonald is survived by one daughter, Miss Mae, who teaches in the schools of Bayfield, and one son, Angus of Three Lakes. The remains were taken from Ashland to Stevens Point for burial. Many beautiful floral offerings were received from friends in this city and Bayfield.

Mrs. McDonald's death is a source of keen sorrow to her many old friends and neighbors in Rhinelander. She was a kind hearted, motherly woman who was always ready to aid those in need or distress. She will always be lovingly remembered.

ST. MARY'S GREAT FAIR

Is Proving a Big Financial Success at The Armory

One of the greatest events ever given under the auspices of St. Mary's congregation was the fair held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Armory. Hundreds of people almost constantly filled the big hall, patronizing the various booths and otherwise enjoying the occasion. In a financial war the fair has proved a huge success and the proceeds will no doubt go beyond the most sanguine expectations.

The drawing of prizes has been of interest. Many valuable articles have been awarded to those holding the lucky tickets. Tonight (Wednesday) the diamond ring will be given to the young lady who is the highest in the vote contest.

WOMAN'S CLUB DEPARTMENT

EDITED BY THE SUFFRAGE COMMITTEE
Mrs. J. J. Reardon, Chairman

That every party planning a platform before the people of the state during the ensuing year be requested to incorporate a plank favoring Woman Suffrage and that these planks be formulated by the executive committee of the state association at the proper time was the body of a resolution adopted at the first session of the Wisconsin Woman Suffrage association at its 23th annual convention in Madison, Nov. 19 and 20. The main points made by the speakers were the value of increasing the general educational work of the association and the importance of urging an amendment to the United States Constitution so that no sex discrimination shall be made as a qualification for voters.

GENTLEMEN HEAR GOOD PROGRAM

Woman's Club Entertain The Sterner Sex On Friday Evening

The Woman's Club held its yearly gentlemen's Night entertainment Friday evening, Nov. 21st, at which about seventy were present.

Formerly, a banquet has been given to celebrate this occasion, but this year the social committee, for a diversion saw fit to substitute an entertainment.

The President, Mrs. Crosby, in a few well chosen words addressed the audience. She spoke of the work of the Club and its aims. Her remarks were witty and to the point. Miss Hart gave a reading and a piano solo and received hearty applause.

The two choruses "The Heavens Are Telling" and "Thy Marvelous Works" were enthusiastically received. These choruses were the result of practice for a recent musical program when Haydn's Creation was studied at the regular meeting of the club. Mrs. Jessie Hampton acted as pianist and Director.

A farce, "The Mouse Trap" by Howell, was given by the following:

Miss Alice Smith, Mr. James McRae, Mesdames F. A. Lowell and Van Alstine and Misses Snyder, Dorothy Brown and Helen Forbes. The farce was very humorous and took exceedingly well with the audience.

Next on the program was a two course lunch which also "took well." The club members and their guests remained until late in the evening. The evening was pronounced a success, especially by the gentlemen who seemed to enjoy being entertained instead of taking part as formerly.

How to Use Peruna for Coughs and Colds

If Peruna were used at the beginning of every cold, coughs would generally be prevented.

After the cough begins Peruna will generally stop it just as quickly as it ought to be stopped. To stop a cough before all of the expectation has been removed is to do great injury. After the expectation, has been properly removed the cough will stop itself. That is the only proper way to stop a cough.

Occasionally a cough depends upon an irritable condition of the larynx or bronchial tubes, in which there is little or no expectation.

The problem of stopping such a cough is a slightly different one. Even in those cases Peruna ought to be taken, but sometimes it is necessary that local treatment be added.

Every one who has a troublesome cough or a lingering cold should write the Peruna Company, Columbus, Ohio, for a free copy of the "Tills of Life." There is no free pamphlet distributed to-day of more real value to the sick and afflicted than the new "Tills of Life." It is filled from cover to cover with actual cases of cough, colds and other climatic diseases in all stages and complications. You could scarcely fail to find your case exactly described in this book.

To neglect to do everything possible to get rid of a stubborn cold or chronic cough is very unwise indeed. Peruna has enjoyed a great reputation as a remedy in such cases for thirty or forty years. As a rule, a person who uses one bottle of it is always afterwards an enthusiastic advocate of Peruna. Peruna itself is a means of selling more Peruna than all advertisements put together.

Those who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

Horrible Accident In North
Crandon

Chris Christianson, who was brought to St. Mary's hospital in this city suffering with severe burns Tuesday of last week, died early Friday morning.

Christianson was burned while attempting to light a fire with kerosene oil in his lodging quarters in North Crandon. The oil exploded and the man received terrible burns about the chest and shoulders. Suffering intense agony he was brought to this city for medical attention but aside from easing his pain some what physicians could do nothing to aid him.

Christianson was about forty-five years of age and had resided in North Crandon and vicinity for several years. It is said that just before he passed away the unfortunate man told the Sisters in the hospital he was without relatives. Being penniless, preparations were made by J. J. Nick, county undertaker, to bury the body in the potter's field when it was learned that a brother, Andrew Christianson, resided in Norrie, Marathon county. TRY TO DERAIL SOO LINE TRAIN

East Bound Limited Has Narrow Escape From Disaster Sunday Night

An attempt was made to wreck the east bound Soo line limited train No. 8, a few miles out of Minneapolis Sunday night. A pile of ties was placed on the track and a nearby switch was left open. The plot was discovered by an employee of the railroad company who succeeded in signaling the train in time to avoid a terrible disaster.

The man who prevented the wreck stated that he first started to close the switch and remove the obstruction from the track when a voice out of the darkness warned him to go away. Fearing bodily harm the man left the spot and moving stealthily up the track flagged the approaching train with his lantern.

Within the last year several attempts have been made to wreck Soo line passenger trains out of the Twin Cities. Arrests have been made but in every case there has been lack of sufficient evidence to prosecute.

A launch ride on our chain of lakes on November 24, 1913, speaks pretty well for our climate. However such is the case, and better still, thus far there isn't any ice formed on our chain.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Neu took their son Howard, to Antigo the first of the week when he underwent an operation and had successfully removed his tonsils and adenoids. Drs. Watson and Dorobue performed the operation. Howard is getting along nicely and will soon be able again to attend school and call on his newspaper customers personally.

PELICAN LAKE

One of the loveliest parties of the season was given by Mrs. Joe Hutchinson at her home Saturday evening. The house was beautifully decorated in Japanese lanterns and evergreens. Mrs. Hutchinson looked charming in a girlish frock of yellow which harmonized beautifully with her black hair and girlish figure. After an evening of question games the hostess escorted her guests to the dining room where a one course lunch was served. Those present were mesdames Fox, Canby, Sparks, Leithstrom, Rice and Mrs. P. E. Katel, Monico. The Misses Amanda Rice, Pearl Fox, Myrtle Ferguson and Miss Ethel McCamley of Merrill.

The trial of Louis A. Arnold, ousted tax commissioner of Milwaukee against the city for reinstatement in office, will be heard in Judge Halsey's branch of the circuit court on Nov. 25, with Judge Aldrich H. Reid presiding.

Arnold was granted a writ recently whereby the impeachment proceedings brought against him by the council can be reviewed by circuit court. The appointment by Mayor Bading of E. M. Bodden as tax commissioner will not be acted on until the decision of Judge Reid is handed down.

FACTS, NOT IMAGINATION

One man near Rhinelander, purchased, cleared and put in a crop of 400 acres of potatoes during this last season. The crop was not large just about an average crop. He has marketed his potatoes and now makes the following statement from his books:

"I bought 400 acres here last year, cleared it and put it into potatoes and cleared the rest of the land, the cost of clearing, of planting, harvesting and marketing all out of this year's crop. Besides this I paid for the buildings and tools necessary to take care of the year's crop."

The above is not a dream; it is an accomplished fact subject to the most careful investigation. It is of force because it was an unusual or large crop and clearly demonstrates what can reasonably be expected by investment in Northern Wisconsin lands. It seems that those who leave this region in order to get cheap lands for farming purposes have been looking through the wrong end of the telescope. They do not see or minimize the real advantages near to them and magnify the prospects far away.—Merrill Daily Herald.

First Real Mineral Waters.

The manufacture of mineral waters upon correct chemical principles was undertaken in America as early as 1806. This was merely "charged water," but it was a great novelty in the days when lack of traveling facilities made the mineral springs remote for many. In 1809 the first establishment was started in New York city.

Lobbyist Made a "Touch."

"Did you ever meet a lobbyist?" "Yes," replied Senator Sorghum. "Did he offer you money?" "No. I was already convinced of the merits of his proposition. He borrowed ten dollars."—Washington Star.

Personally we do not pretend to be much of a hand at reading character, but when we see a young man carrying a pair of kid gloves in one hand and a cane in the other we know he isn't looking for a plowing job.—Galveston News.

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

Clean up the garden.
Spread the manure daily.
The horse is still on the job.
Clean up the strawberry bed.
It takes 30 days to hatch a setting of goose eggs.
Stop at the top of the hill and let your horse get breath.
Give an ailing animal a change of diet. An ailing man, also.
Cool the milk as soon as it is out of the cow. This is very important.
Prune and burn all the diseased limbs and fruits clinging to the fruit trees.
Keeping two cows to do the work of one is the cause of many losses in dairying.
Charcoal in pieces the size of a pea or burnt cork once a week is good for all poultry.
One advantage in keeping poultry is that they eat much that would otherwise be wasted.
To thrive best the young pigs must have dry nests and the bedding should be changed frequently.
The man who fails to profit by his mistakes is losing one of the best lessons taught by experience.
Poultry makes good insect destroyers for orchards. Have the runs extend into the orchards when possible.
Don't disappoint your customers. Keep your promises and don't make promises unless you know you can fulfill them.
A good mixture for growing calves is five parts rolled oats, three parts wheat bran, one part corn meal and one part oil meal.
Sheep manure is one of the best farm manures. It contains a large percentage of nitrogen and a portion of phosphoric acid and potash.
It is much easier to run a flock of poultry down than to build it up, and nothing will run down a flock of chickens quicker than improper feeding.
For the production of sanitary milk the dairymen must have healthy cows, a sanitary barn, clean bedding, dust-free air, a clean barnyard and clean cows.
An acre of alfalfa will furnish more high class protein feed than almost any other crop that is grown in the sections where dairying is followed to the best advantage.
Provide ample roosting places for the growing young stock. Beware of crowding. Nothing is so conducive to colds as the overheating that comes of crowded quarters.
There is a good market for all kinds of feathers. Pick fowls dry and sort feathers, the coarse from the fine. They can easily be preserved until enough are collected to take to market.
While coarse manure hauled out and spread in the spring may not greatly benefit the crop of that year it is better hauled out at any time than left to leach and burn in the barn yard.
Machinery is necessary on the farm and cheaper than hard labor, and it is also more efficient in many cases. The farmer must have considerable money tied up in his machinery and therefore it is necessary to give it the very best of care, both when in use and when stored.
In selecting the bulls to head the herd or buying any stock to put in the herd, ancestry is of as much importance as individuality, but both must be considered. It is wrong to take a poor individual because of ancestry and it is also wrong to take a good individual that does not have any ancestry.
Raise your own teams and one occasionally for your neighbor. So long as men use improved implements they will continue to use good teams. And the best way to have an efficient team on your own farm is to raise colts for this purpose.
If your poultry houses are old, after thoroughly patching them up, give them a thorough coating of strong whitewash containing kerosene oil and some carbolic acid. Give nest boxes, roosts and dropping boards their full share of it.

KILLS DEER WITH ROCK

William Dunn Gets His Venison In Prehistoric Manner

William Dunn, a former Rhinelander man, has no use for the trusty rifle when he wishes to slay a deer. Instead he resorts to the rock, the weapon of prehistoric man, and with a well directed throw brings down his venison. It is left for the Ladysmith Journal to tell the story.

"We frequently hear hunters tell of getting within a stone's throw of a deer, but they don't usually test it out by throwing a stone. It has remained for William Dunn, conductor on the Menasha train, to complete the tale by throwing a stone and bringing down the deer. Last Saturday, as the "dinky" approached the Duncummon farm a doe and a fawn were seen to cross the road and jump into the barnyard. In jumping the fence the fawn seems to have been somewhat hurt and both were dazed at the surroundings they found themselves in. The train was stopped and the crew rushed to the scene. Mr. Dunn bringing the fawn down with a well aimed stone, the doe escaping."

Wanted--Confidence

The one thing which is keeping what may be called the "high grade" domestic trade out of the home laundries is the lack of confidence in them. There are plenty of power laundries which launder fine household linen, ladies' apparel and gentlemen's shirts, collars and cuffs as they should be. The trouble is they are not easy to locate.

Most people think that a "laundry is a laundry." We want you to know that our plant is different from the average; we take a pride in our work and can convince you of this fact, if you will give us a trial.

Mr. Guphill has many high class blooded fowls which have taken premiums at poultry shows throughout the northwest.

FOREIGNERS AS LUMBERJACKS

A horde of foreigners of various nationalities, in derby hats and carrying suitcases, are traveling from one camp to another through northern Wisconsin attempting the role of the lumberjack. The best they can do is handle a grub hoe on a logging road, but at meal time with both feet in the trough they give the camp cook heart failure. With a crew of these men a camp boss ought to be conversant with several different languages and how latin.—Crandon Republican.

MAY CONFISCATE DOGS

Dogs running deer may be confiscated by the state game warden's department. The attorney general gave this opinion to State Game Warden John A. Scholtz. The attorney general further held that if the court finds the dogs were not running deer, the owner is entitled to possession of his dog.

WISCONSIN TUBER WILL BE FAMOUS

Henry C. Cheyney Tells Importance of Advertising and Choice Packing

Henry C. Cheyney, assistant general freight agent of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, was one of the principal speakers at the Wisconsin Potato Growers' association convention. Mr. Cheyney advocated the importance of advertising the Wisconsin potato, predicting that it would soon become famous in the markets of the United States.

Below Mr. Cheyney's address is given in full:

The potato, now a staple food for man, was cultivated before the discovery of America, but it was not until late in the 18th century that it commenced to grow in popularity as a food product, but the potato now is coming into its own, brought about by an exacting public who demand quality and the time is opportune for the Wisconsin potato.

In my boyhood days the potato was used largely as a filler, considered a necessity, never a delicacy, but today when the special baked in say first class hotel or cafe, costs about the same as the baked apple, including sugar and cream, quality is not only demanded but must be provided.

This reminds me of a conversation I overheard in a dining car up state a few days ago. A gentleman, evidently a grower, ordered a special baked potato. When he received his check he remarked to the waiter, "It was fine George, but it costs too much. I can only get 45 cents a bushel for mine and they are just as good." This remark is only one of many that we hear about how really well adapted to raising potatoes Wisconsin is, but this fact is well enough known to bring about higher market prices.

The cutover land in conjunction with the climate seems to just breed quality into them. All that is needed to give them individuality is advertising and proper packing for market. Do you ever stop to think that Roy Ford melons were once unknown? Oregon and Washington apples considered no better than those of New York state? Why is it they command such a premium in every market? Simply because they have been constantly advertised and are put up in a neat and attractive manner. I think it possible for the Wisconsin potato to reach the same sphere of popularity. I see no reason why the potato industry of Wisconsin cannot, before many years, surpass the lumber as its possibilities are unlimited. Chicago alone consumes approximately 12,000 cars of potatoes each year. In bushels, over six million. The Northwestern road last year handled approximately 12,000 cars of potatoes out of Wisconsin, to which add as much again of the other roads, and you can gain an approximate idea of the magnitude of this industry today. In Chicago it is estimated that 1,800,000 people or about 80 per cent of its great population live in apartments or flat buildings, provided with neither cellars or other vegetable storage. The potato is supplied through the family grocer without regard to quality or uniformity in size and the bottom of the sack is now always a disappointment to every housewife and this is true of every large city. The housewife in the apartments wants her potatoes in a neat and attractive package that can be placed on the pantry shelf. It must have a distinctive label which guarantees quality and uniformity in size for which she will be glad to pay a higher price. The hotel, cafe and dining cars demand the same. The family grocer wants the attractive and distinctive package which sells itself, pleases his customers and avoids him loss. Isn't this a field for the high quality Wisconsin potato? It costs to transfer a bushel of potatoes from Rhinelander to Milwaukee Wis., approximately 7 1/2 cents, to Chicago 9 cents, to St. Louis 13 cents, Kansas City 15 cents, Pittsburgh 15 cents, Philadelphia 21 cents, New York 22 cents. The freight is the selected potato is no higher than on the indifferent or ordinary. The attractive package, guarantee label, double value, quality and uniform size will place the Wisconsin potato not only in these cities but in hundreds of new markets.

Prior to the present extension work the promotion of the Wisconsin potato was the work of a few men, pioneers in the building of suitable warehouses for the storing and shipping of the growers crop, establishing a cash home market. While these same pioneers have for years advocated better seed, uniformity in size and good quality, they have met with many discouragements and limited success. The present extension work of the Horticultural Department of the University of Wisconsin, in conjunction with the Wisconsin Potato Growers' Association, under state auspices is removing all prejudice on the part of most growers who in the past have been skeptical as to advance methods, bringing better returns, but are now convinced. The slogan from now on the Wisconsin potato grow is yield quality and uniformity, and means to them substantial financial returns.

Following the present extension work, the Wisconsin potato Growers Association must give the Wisconsin potato to individuality. It must be promoted advertised and packed for market in a manner attractive to both consumer and trade. This is a growers, not a dealers proposition. The promotion of the Wisconsin potato means much hard work, the expenditure of money, possibly some state aid, but with its individuality once established, the demands will be always great and at the highest market price. To create the right demand for the advanced Wisconsin potato I believe that a standard package of 10, 20, and 30 pounds must be promoted. This package must be attractive in appearance, bearing a distinctive label, which guarantees double value, uniformity in size, quality and with this once done the Wisconsin potato will occupy a place of its own. With the demand once created for the selected Wisconsin potato, the large handlers and shippers who now furnish the growers storage and shipping facilities and a home cash market will pay higher prices for selected potatoes which will be placed in attractive packages and go forth to the great family markets where they will be displayed in the grocer's window, attracting the attention of all.

In conclusion, let me prophesy that it won't be many years before the perfect Wisconsin potato will be selected in the field, placed in crates and not disturbed until it reaches the centralization plant, similar to the manner in which milk under modern methods is handled today. They will then be washed and packed in the attractive package ready for market with but one handling from soil to consumer. Then the special heated potato car will place these perfect potatoes in every large consuming market, regardless of weather conditions.

BOWLING NOTES

The "Tigers" and "Night Hawks" rolled their third game of the first series last Wednesday night. Both teams did not come up to their usual average score; Holzschuh was not in form to carry the load for the "Tigers" and Capt. Rodwell's "Night Hawks" won the series. The scores being "Tigers" 2185, "Night Hawks" 2275.

Friday Night the "Night Hawks" clashed with the "Hy-Kys," the present champions, and gave them a merry chase up to the last part of the game but lost out by falling down in the last quarter. The scores were "Night Hawks" 2185, "Hy-Kys" 2365. The undefeated "Hy-Kys" bowl the "Alley Rats" this week, which is sure to be a hot battle. Ed Blomdahl holds the alley record, thus far for this season with a 265 score. Ed, better known as "Bung," is filling up more than his share of space on the black board of fame.

Why I Came to America

By JOSE HERRERA

"The reason why I came to America, my dear fellow," said one Spaniard to another, "is that I might get rid of friends who were liable to involve me in anarchical plots that are honeycombing the social condition of my country. Whether those working for something better than the present social status are right or whether they are wrong I don't pretend to say. What I do say is that I had no mind to be mixed up in their plans. One episode that came very near to me decided me to leave Spain."

"A friend of mine—we will call him Manuel, for I shall not give you real names of persons in the story I am about to tell—asked me to visit his summer house in the mountains lying directly south of Madrid. I accepted the invitation and found a colony of summer homes. I met a number of charming persons, but I will mention only two, both of whom are connected with my story. I will call one Concha and the other Inez. Manuel, it seemed to me, was on the verge of forming a union, but with whom I could not tell. Concha was a gentle little thing with—so far as I could discover—no other desire but to love and be loved, and if married would devote herself to husband and children. Inez, on the contrary, was full of grand theories, a radical by nature. I understood from Manuel that she was a disciple of one who was attempting to found a new school of morals. I did not believe that she was sincere. It seemed to me that in everything she did she had a sinister motive. Perhaps, I said to myself, she is attracted by the novelty of this man's ideas and deceives herself into the belief that it is sympathy with humanity that moves her."

"I was not long in discovering that these two girls were Manuel's good and evil geniuses. His heart when in a normal condition was with Concha, but he was influenced by Inez's views coming through Inez herself—that is, it was rather Inez than the views that moved him."

"Concha did not evince any concern as to this influence that Inez was exerting over Manuel. Not the least jealousy did she show when she saw the two together, but at times I thought I could detect the glimmer of a hidden fire. One day I made a remark to Manuel which would lead him, if he chose to do so, to confide in me the situation. He told me that he loved Concha, but that Inez, who was intellectually very much Concha's superior, inspired him to do great things for humanity. This gave me the cue. Concha was influencing him in one way, Inez in another."

"We all went back to Madrid together in the autumn, and one day Manuel stated that he was an active member of an anarchical society whose object was the elevation of the lower orders of humanity. He expected that in time poverty would be eliminated. His idea in confiding in me was to induce me to join his society. I told him that I preferred to live in an imperfect world rather than die to establish a perfect one. I knew that Inez had triumphed and Concha had been defeated."

"I kept away from him after that, for I feared he would become involved in some of those radical measures which thus far had been condemned by all but a small portion of the world's people, and I preferred to keep myself so free from him that I would not suffer in case he got into trouble. It was lucky for me that I did, for one morning, looking out through a window, I could see excited crowds moving in the street and, leaning out, asked one passing what had happened. He told me that a prominent government official had been killed by an anarchist. When a special issue of the newspapers came out what was my horror to see the name of my friend Manuel given as the assassin."

"Manuel was tried and executed. It was not long after his execution that Inez began to spend money in a way that she had never spent it before. She was also seen frequently at court, and a general in the army became attentive to her. Nevertheless she was not popular with persons of high degree with whom she was associating. I formed my own theory with regard to her, which was this: She had betrayed Manuel for money and influence."

"I wondered how Concha had taken her lover's death, but I was not one of her personal friends and did not feel justified in calling upon her at the time of her bereavement. I heard, however, that no one knew how she was affected by the tragedy."

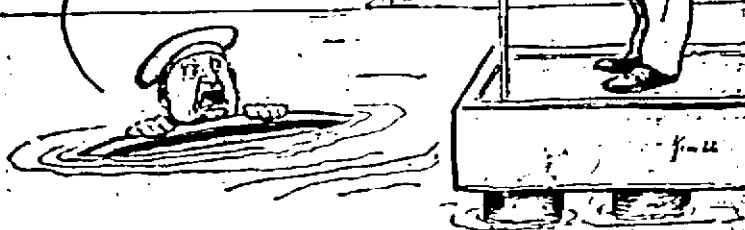

"Another shock besides the assassination and Manuel's death awaited me. Taking up a newspaper one morning while at breakfast, I saw under large headlines a statement that Inez had been stabbed in her carriage while returning to her home from the opera. She had been escorted to the carriage by an official high in favor at court, who had closed the door. On arriving at her home it was found ajar, and the lady had been stabbed to the heart."

"I was doubting the only man in Spain who knew—by inference—who had stabbed Inez. Fearing that the government might get a clew and I be summoned for a witness, I decided to get away as soon as possible. I left for this country the same evening."

"Thus far no clew to the assassin of Inez has been discovered. Concha, I have heard, has entered a convent."

Gentlemen:—Referring to the preliminary test No. 1 on two boilers located at the Hotel Hastings one equipped with Carnegie Automatic Fuel Saver and the other without. I beg to advise that on this preliminary run, the boiler equipped with the Fuel Saver showed an increase in efficiency over the one without of 15% per cent, which is as much as to say, that under the same conditions, the one without burned 15% per cent more fuel to do the same amount of work than was required by the one equipped. Very truly yours,

HIGH SCHOOL HAPPENINGS

Interesting Items Concerning Teachers And Scholars

Among the visitors at the high school this week were Mr. and Mrs. John Svedberg and Mr. Lund. We are glad to see parents at school. We hope many more will come to see us. Come any time, stay as long as you please, and make yourselves at home!

A definite start will soon be made toward securing some apparatus for our play grounds. A little improvement of these grounds, a little supervision such as the teachers are giving this year, and the play grounds will become centers of good. The pupils and teachers have already purchased some articles to use, but more will be appreciated. There is a room in each building that can be used in winter, at least for part of the day. Games that can be played indoors will be added to the equipment soon.

A suggestion made at the Curran Mothers' Meeting Friday met with a ready response there, and we hope many will adopt the plan. It is that parents in selecting Christmas presents, get one or more for the grade which their child attends. Let the present take the form of a game that many can play and enjoy. Several families might unite to purchase a better piece of apparatus—a volley ball, punching bag, game of ring toss, or the like.

Superintendent or teachers will be glad to make suggestions as to suitable articles for the purpose.

Plans are being made for a parents' meeting at the new high school, Friday evening, December 12. It is hoped that parents of high school pupils, mothers and fathers too, will arrange their time so as to attend this gathering. One of the noted teachers of the state will address the meeting and other entertainment will be offered. It is possible that a Parent-Teachers' association may be organized.

GOOD VAUDEVILLE ACTS

First Class Program At The Majestic This Week

An exceptionally good vaudeville program was presented at the Majestic theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Two acts were given, namely, The Landers high class aerial performers; Gilbert and Graham, comedy talking, singing and dancing. Both these turns were above the average and were well received by the large audiences.

The Landers perform feats on the aerial rings and bars which are seemingly impossible. They are adepts in their profession.

Gilbert and Graham get off some really funny stuff and their singing and dancing comes in for liberal applause.

Several worthy feature pictures have been seen on the Majestic screen this week, including the big sensational Reliance production, "Half A Chance."

CONCERT IS SPLENDID

Varden And Military Band Give First Class Program

Those who attended the concert of the Military band and Varden singing society at the Grand Opera House, Thursday evening expressed themselves as delighted with the program. It was one of the most pleasing musical entertainments heard in Rhinelander this year. Forty singers and musicians participated in the many numbers which were faultlessly given. Great improvement was shown by these organizations since previous appearances in public and it was the general verdict that both have reached the zenith of perfection. They are organizations of which this city may well feel proud.

The concert was not as well patronized as it should have been and it is hoped that if another treat of this kind is given in the future that more will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend.

LAWYER RAISES POTATOES

District Attorney A. H. Smith, of Lincoln county, was one of the most enthusiastic men at the convention of the Wisconsin Potato Growers association in this city. Mr. Smith said that he and his brother, F. J. Smith, raised 1250 bushels of potatoes off of 4½ acres near Merrill this year. "I went into potato growing more as an experiment than anything else," remarked Mr. Smith, "but next year I intend to make it a regular business as I consider it more profitable than practicing law." The exhibit of potatoes at the Armory was one of the finest I have ever seen anywhere.

STRATFORD HAS NEWSPAPER

The Stratford Journal is the latest bark to be launched upon the sea of Wisconsin journalism. The first number of the Journal came to the exchange desk this week. It is a brilliant and newsworthy little weekly, filled with live well written matter and has a remarkably good showing of advertising. The paper is published by William J. McQueen, who evidently possesses the energy and ability which spells success in every undertaking. He is entitled to the full support of the people of the bustling little Marathon county town.

KILLING DISEASE GERMS IN MILK.

In order to determine the best way of pasteurizing milk so far as to kill the disease germs and yet not give the milk a cooked flavor or lessen its nutritive value, the department of agriculture through its dairy division has been conducting a series of experiments, treating milk at different temperatures and for different lengths of time. According to the report on these experiments in bulletin 166 of the bureau of animal industry, when milk is pasteurized at 145 degrees F. for thirty minutes the chemical changes are so slight that it is unlikely that the protein (muscle building element) or the Princess Jane Mercedes, the pure bred Holstein cow illustrated, is a dairy animal of magnificent type and individuality. At the age of four years and a half she made a seven day record of 47.18 pounds of milk and 13.23 pounds of butter and at five years made a semi-monthly year's record of 2,811.07 pounds of milk and 516 pounds of butter. She is the dam of a bull calf recently purchased at a long price to head a Holstein herd in Japan.

phosphates of lime and magnesia are rendered less digestible than they are in raw milk.

Moreover, from a bacteriological standpoint, pasteurizing at low temperatures is found to be more satisfactory than pasteurizing at high temperatures. According to bulletins 128 and 161, where low temperatures are used the majority of bacteria that survive are lactic acid organisms, which play an important part in the normal souring of milk. When milk is efficiently pasteurized at high temperatures the bacteria which survive are largely of the putrefactive kind, and milk so treated, if kept for any length of time, has a tendency to rot instead of sour. From the standpoint of economy, the technologist of the dairy division finds that pasteurizing at low temperatures calls for less heat. It is found that it takes about 23½ per cent less heat to raise milk to the temperature of 145 degrees F. than to a temperature of 163 degrees F. A similar gain is a saving of ice needed, because it will require 23½ per cent more refrigeration to cool milk to the shipping point when it is pasteurized at the higher temperature. The department, therefore, recommends that "when market milk is pasteurized it should be heated to about 145 degrees F. and held at that temperature for 30 minutes."

TO MAKE A FARM GATE.

Simple Directions For Putting Together Cheap Yet Substantial Affair.

A cheap and substantial gate can be recommended for almost any situation where a swing gate is needed. Use the usual round sapling for the back end of the gate, fastened in a ring above and hinged below. Then use five small saplings the proper length and three other small ones the proper width for the front, end and center. The whole affair is securely put together with three-eighth inch bolts.

The crosspieces and long saplings are flattened where they are bolted together. The large upright at the back end of the gate should be flattened on one side and also sawed in a little for each slat, then a crosspiece put over and bolted like the rest of the frame. The whole thing should be peeled and then painted, unless one desires to use cedar, which would be rustic and perhaps more enduring. Brace with good strong wires to keep in shape, and give further strength by going from the top of the long upright to the top of front crosspiece and then from that point to the bottom of rear of the gate.—American Agriculturist.

Patching For Tar Roofs.

Occasionally there is a place on the farm where it is necessary to use a tar or tarred paper roof. These roofs are likely to develop holes in weak places or where the laps come. For patching these holes and cracks nothing is better than a piece of fairly heavy cloth from an overall or jacket cut a little bigger than the hole. Cover entire patch and the roof around the hole with tar. It will make a serviceable patch and is easily put on.—Farm and Fireside.

Kills the Chewing Insects.

Hellebore is used in place of paris green and other preparations where there is danger of the poison remaining on the plants that are to be eaten. It should be dusted on the leaves, care being used that the under side of the leaves are thoroughly reached. Do this when the few is on, or first sprinkle the plants so the preparation will stick. If you use as a solution mix one ounce in one to three gallons of water and spray the plants.—Rural Farmer.

Right.

Teacher—Who can tell me what nations live on? Willie Bright—Water, most of the time.

Talent.

The artist uses a stone, and it is a statue; the mason uses a stone, and it is a doorstep.

Facts About the Bible.
The middle verse of the Bible is the eighth verse of the one hundred and eighteenth Psalm. The twenty-first verse of the seventh chapter of Ezra contains all the letters of the alphabet except the letter J. The longest verse is the ninth verse of the eighth chapter of Esther. The shortest verse is the ninth verse of the eleventh chapter of St. John.

Courtship in Oshima.
On the Japanese island of Oshima in the Sea of Japan the young people enjoy more freedom in the matter of courting than in Central Japan. They are left to themselves to select their own mates, much after the fashion of the west. When a young suitor proposes to the girl of his choice, the girl declines two or three times as a matter of form, and in order that she may enjoy the period of courtship.

Success in Localizing Crop.
The little seedless grapes which furnish the so-called dried "currants" exported from Greece in large quantities and produced nowhere else in the world are a remarkable instance of localizing of an important crop in a small district. The annual yield of these "currants" is over 1,200,000,000 pounds of fresh fruit, or about 160,000 tons when dried.

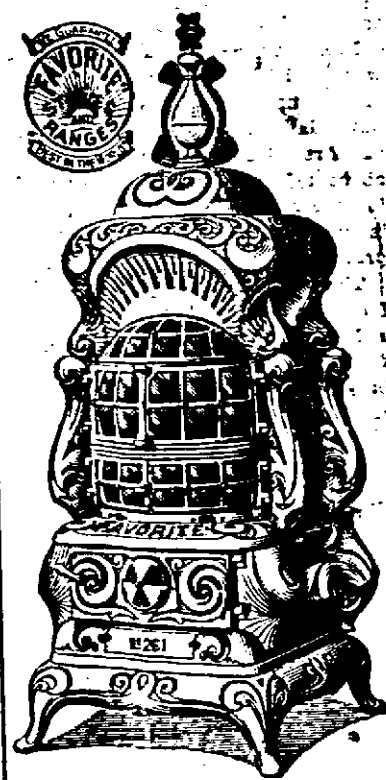

A Favorite

OR

a Furnace?

Your pocketbook will tell you the answer.

It costs lots of money to install a furnace. If this expense gave you a better heating apparatus, and a warmer home during the winter, than you could get any other way—it would be necessary and worthwhile expense.

But you can warm your home just as well at one-fifth the expense of installing a furnace.

How? With a favorite Bess Burner. The favorite not only costs one-fifth as much to install, but it requires just one-sixth as much coal to warm your home perfectly all winter—as does the wasteful furnace.

Now, which do YOU want?
